I. COURSE DESCRIPTION AND OBJECTIVES

Course Description:

This course has two central aims. One is to understand how a philosophical approach to emotions differs from, but can benefit from scientific studies. The other is to understand the centrality of emotion in our practical, moral and aesthetic experience. We will attempt to shed light on the following questions: What exactly are emotions? How are they like and unlike other mental states and processes? Are they shaped mostly by our genes, or by culture and society? How do they relate to beliefs and desires? Do emotions apprehend values in the world, or do they create values by being projected onto the world? Are emotions rational, irrational or arational? Can they be shaped, defended, and justified? What role do they play in morality? Are there specifically “moral emotions”? How are emotions involved in our experience of movies, music, art and literature?

Learning Objectives:

At the end of the course, students will be able to:

- Explain some traditional philosophical positions as well as common objections to these.
- Analyze, evaluate, construct, and present persuasive and cogent arguments for particular philosophical positions
- Think critically about difficult and complex topics

Course Evaluations: Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>. In evaluating this course, you should refer to the Learning Objectives on the syllabus (p. 1).

Teaching Philosophy:

My goal is not to convince you that any of the authors in our text have all the answers. It is to help you understand their thoughts so that critical reflection on those thoughts can play a meaningful role in forming your own.

II. DOING YOUR PART

It's your decision whether or not to remain in this course. If you decide to stay, think of your decision as a commitment to participate actively in your own learning, take responsibility for your education, and be an active learner in this course. Philosophy requires a lot of reading, and it is very difficult reading. You will need to devote a significant amount of time to it. You will need to carefully follow the schedule at the end of the syllabus, regularly participate in class discussions, and seriously prepare for the assignments.

III. HOW YOU AND I WILL MEASURE YOUR PROGRESS

Measuring your progress in points will make it easy for you to determine your own grade and progress at any time. The total possible number of points for the course is 100. Final letter grades will be assigned on the standard point/percentage scale:

A: 93.0-100; A-: 90.0-92.9; B+: 87.1-89.9; B: 83.0-87.0; B-: 80.0-82.9; C+: 77.1-79.9; C: 73.0-77.0; C-: 70.0-72.9; D+: 67.1-69.9; D: 63.0-67.0; D-: 60-62.9; E: 0.0-59.9.

What do grades mean at UF?

A is for excellent work.

B is for very good work.

C is for adequate or average work.

D is for below average, inadequate work.

E is for unacceptable work, i.e., work that is not at the college level.

For more information about UF's grading policies please visit here.

Components of Course Grade

Weekly reading notes (8): 2.5 pts/post; 20%

Friday team-led discussions: 10%

Short paper #1: 15%

Short paper #2: 15%

Final paper: 30%

Attendance: 5%

Participation: 5%

Total: 100%

IV. COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

Homework: You have homework due every week. It consists of reading the assigned materials.

Weekly reading notes: (almost) every week, due Sundays (available until 11.59 pm the latest), you will need to submit your notes on the readings due next week. There are specific instructions provided for submitting notes.

There are eleven (11) graded (complete/incomplete) reading notes submissions. Three lowest post scores will be dropped. So only 8 discussion grades out of 11 will count towards your final grade. Each submission is worth 2.5 points. The weekly reading notes are worth 20% of the final grade.

Friday team-led discussions: Every student is randomly paired with a classmate to lead a Friday discussion session. During it, the pair will summarize the content discussed during the Monday and Wednesday classes that week, and present whatever wasn't covered from the readings due that week. They will then lead the discussion with the rest of the class, posing questions to the class, and answering students' questions to their best ability. The team-led discussion is worth 10% of the final grade.

Extra credit: you may volunteer to lead an additional Friday discussion after week 11. You will need to sign up on Canvas.

Papers: You are asked to write two short papers (750-1000 words each), and one long final paper (2000-4000) for this course. All papers are thesis papers. In the short papers you will need to answer a specific question based on the readings. For each short paper you will have two options to pick from. Note that each option has a different due date. For the final paper, you will need to choose a topic, develop a thesis, and defend it by providing evidence and arguments. You will need to demonstrate the knowledge you have acquired in the course. The short papers are worth 15% each, and the final paper is worth 30% of the final grade.

Late Work will not be accepted. There will be no make-ups for missed assignments. This policy may be overridden only by extenuating cases. In order to make up an assignment, the following conditions must be met: (i) the instructor must be notified well in advance, (ii) the student must have a formal written excuse, and (iii) the missed assignment must be made-up within one calendar week.

Attendance: Your presence via Zoom (or in class if you are registered for f2f) is absolutely necessary to ensure the fullest realization of our learning objectives. You are allowed four excused absences in the course. Beyond this number, proper documentation will be required to excuse absences (e.g., a doctor's note). You must provide this documentation to me within one week of the missed class.

If you are absent for an excused reason, you will not lose any points and the absence will not exhaust one of your free absences. In most cases you need documentation of the excuse (see below). Excused absences are limited to the following cases:

- Health. If your physical or mental health causes you to miss class, a note from your doctor or from the Dean of Students within one week of the absence will count as documentation for this.
- Personal Reasons. The Dean of Students will send me a note of excuse if you have personal reasons for needing one, such as a death in the family or an ongoing medical issue. I need your note from the DOS within one week of the absence. Note: I do not get involved in adjudicating good personal reasons from bad ones. I let the DOS handle that.
- Some UF Activities are excused absences. You must provide a note for activities absences prior to the day of absence. Notes may come from the activity supervisor, such as a coach. Regular activities absences will lead to make-up assignments.
- Religious observances. Talk to me at the beginning of the semester about this.

If you think you have an exceptional case, talk to me.

All other absences are typically unexcused, including some very good reasons to miss a class, like career or family events. I support your interest in these things, and understand why you might prioritize them over class, but that does not make them excused absences.

Please note that you are responsible for the information presented in your discussion section even if you miss class, whether for excused or unexcused reasons.

Once you have passed the allowed number of absences, 5% will be taken off from your attendance points for each additional absence. Attendance is worth 5% of your final grade. Please be on time.

Since we are living a pandemic, it is likely that everyone is facing unique challenges at home, at school, at work. Our goal as your educators is to help you succeed. For this reason, if you are requiring help or assistance, please contact us. We are all in this together.

For most people this is a new format of attending class and learning. You might be difficult to concentrate. I encourage you to make an effort to make your learning environment as distraction free as possible. Put a timeout on websites and apps like Facebook, so that you have an easier time concentrating during class. Paying attention during lectures and discussions is absolutely necessary in order to do well in the course.

Covid-19 Regulations for in-class attendance:

We will have face-to-face instructional sessions to accomplish the student learning objectives of this course. In response to COVID-19, the following policies and requirements are in place to maintain your learning environment and to enhance the safety of our in-classroom interactions.

If you are registered to attend class in-person,

- You are required to wear approved face coverings at all times during class and within buildings. Following and enforcing these policies and requirements are all of our responsibility. Failure to do so will lead to a report to the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution.
- This course has been assigned a physical classroom with enough capacity to maintain physical distancing (6 feet between individuals) requirements. Please utilize designated seats and maintain appropriate spacing between students. Please do not move desks or stations.
- Sanitizing supplies are available in the classroom if you wish to wipe down your desks prior to sitting down and at the end of the class.
- Follow your instructor's guidance on how to enter and exit the classroom. Practice physical distancing to the extent possible when entering and exiting the classroom.
- If you are experiencing COVID-19 symptoms (Click here for guidance from the CDC on symptoms of coronavirus), please use the UF Health screening system and follow the instructions on whether you are able to attend class. Click here for UF Health guidance on what to do if you have been exposed to or are experiencing Covid-19 symptoms.

- Course materials will be provided to you with an excused absence, and you will be given a reasonable amount of time to make up work. Find more information in the university attendance policies.

Even if you are registered to attend class in-person, you are always welcome to attend class via Zoom.

Participation: Participation means contributing to the class discussions by asking questions, making comments, and answering questions. This portion of your grade will depend on your engagement and contribution (quality, not quantity). Your class participation will be tracked. Participation is worth 5% of your final grade.

Zoom: my office hours and lectures (for those who registered for online class) will all be held on Zoom this semester.

To access lectures via Zoom, go to www.ufl.zoom.us and sign in with your UF credentials. It is recommended that you download the Zoom app on your computer. You can also access it on your smart phone.

When you click on Meetings, you should see all of our lectures scheduled.

You can also access Zoom lectures via Canvas by (1) clicking on Zoom Conferences (left side panel) or by (2) clicking online Canvas Calendar, and clicking on the Zoom class scheduled.

You can find more information about using Zoom at <https://ufl.zoom.us/>.

If you need assistance, please contact UFIT <https://helpdesk.ufl.edu/>. They are available 24/7 by phone and email: (352) 392-HELP (4357) helpdesk@ufl.edu

Recording lectures and discussions: lectures and discussions will not be recorded. You may not record lectures or discussions without first obtaining permission from me.

Note taking: Research shows that note taking significantly improves students' ability to remember and understand the material they have learned

< <https://tinyurl.com/h98vbgr> >. When taking notes, you should write down ideas. You should not be copying the text of the slides, as the slides are available on Canvas, and you are wasting time re-writing them. Instead, you should be summarizing the material in your own sentences. This is a very good way to learn.

Hand-written notes are superior to typed-up notes because writing notes by hand engages your mind to a much greater extent than typing does. For this reason, I recommend to all of you to write your notes by hand.

Electronic devices class policy: Cell phone and smart watch use during class is not allowed for any reason. Please be sure that they are turned off. If you use your cell phone in class, you will be asked to leave, and attendance points will be subtracted.

You may use a laptop or tablet for note-taking only.

If you wish to record a lecture, be sure to obtain permission from me first.
